

Dr. Vinya S. Ariyaratne

Dr. Ariyaratne is the Executive Director of the Sarvodaya Shramadana Movement of Sri Lanka—the country's largest voluntary, non-governmental people's development organization.

Dr. Ariyaratne oversees a network of 50 district centers and training institutions, with a full-time staff of over 600. He has extensive experience as a medical doctor, as well as a development worker. His broad experience spans from the community level to the national level. Dr. Ariyaratne's fields of expertise include community development, primary health care, nutrition, refugee health care, disaster management, environmental health, reproductive health, HIV/AIDS, and early child development.