

World Bank Group Community Connections Campaign 2020–2021

List of Headquarters Organizations

Celebrating Giving!

COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS CAMPAIGN

The Community Connections Campaign (CCC) is the workplace giving program of the World Bank Group, and it is conducted in November and December each year. The organizations on the CCC list were nominated by World Bank Group staff and retirees and meet our established criteria and our due diligence review. The Headquarters CCC's purpose is primarily to provide support to local nonprofit organizations operating in the Washington, DC metropolitan community. Given the nature of the World Bank Group's mission, it also supports some international development and relief organizations, as well as some national organizations that have substantial activities in the DC region. The organization criteria reflect the evolving focus of the CCC as well as long-term partners who continue to receive staff support and have been grandfathered to remain on the list.

For the organization criteria and nomination process, please go to "Workplace Giving" at:

Five Simple Steps to Better Giving

Follow these five simple steps to ensure that you give with your head—as well as with your heart.

STEP ONE: CLARIFY YOUR VALUES

Charities are as diverse as their donors. Be proactive and don't just give to the first one that solicits you! Consider the type of charity you want to support—small or large; start-up or established; local, national, or international; and so on. Also consider which sector or area of activity you wish to support most.

STEP TWO: FOCUS ON THE MISSION

Make sure a nonprofit has an easy-to-understand mission that aligns with your principles, values and beliefs. You can look up a specific nonprofit in GuideStar's database of more than 2.7 million tax-exempt organizations registered with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (www.guidestar.org), and/or search Charity Navigator (www.charitynavigator.org) which uses an objective, numbers-based rating system to assess over 9,000 well-known, and some lesser-known but still worthy, nonprofit organizations.

STEP THREE: GET THE FACTS

Dig deeper once you find a nonprofit that meets your basic requirements. Pay attention to factors that are most relevant to nonprofit performance—results, transparency, and leadership. Visit a nonprofit's website. Read its annual report. You can turn to GuideStar's Nonprofit Profiles for an easy indication of its transparency. Look for a Bronze, Silver, Gold, or Platinum logo on its profile; and research mission statements, financial statistics, and impact and effectiveness information. Or, check out the organization on Charity Navigator, which rates nonprofits on two broad areas of performance—their Financial Health, and their Accountability and Transparency.

STEP FOUR: CHECK LEGITIMACY

Let's face it: there are sham nonprofits out there. If you find a nonprofit on GuideStar Nonprofit Profiles, you know the IRS recognizes it as tax-exempt. If you can't find a charity, further investigation is required:

- * If the charity is not on GuideStar or Charity Navigator, ask to see its IRS letter of determination.
- * If the organization is faith based, ask to see its official listing in a directory for its denomination.

STEP FIVE: TRUST YOUR INSTINCTS

If you have concerns about a charity, don't contribute. Instead, find another nonprofit that does similar work but makes you feel more comfortable. Remember, reputable charities:

- * Are willing to send you literature about their work, or direct you to their website.
- * Don't use pressure tactics.
- * Take "no" for an answer.
