Women, Business and the Law 2024 (WBL 2024) identifies barriers for women’s economic empowerment in three areas: women’s legal rights, policy instruments designed to support the implementation of these rights, and how these rights are realized in practice. For that purpose, three new Women, Business and the Law 2.0 indexes are presented for ten indicators: (1) legal frameworks, (2) supportive frameworks, and (3) expert opinions. For the WBL 2.0 legal frameworks index, 40 questions are scored across the ten indicators for 190 economies. For the WBL 2.0 supportive frameworks index, 30 questions are scored across the ten indicators for 190 economies. Overall economy level legal and supportive frameworks scores are then calculated by taking the average of each indicator, with 100 representing the highest possible score. The WBL 2.0 expert opinions index is created for a total of 164 economies. Expert opinion scores are not available for Eritrea due to an insufficient number of responses received from this economy during data collection.

For Eritrea, data refer to the legal frameworks and supportive frameworks that are applicable to the main business city (Asmara). The scores for Eritrea are shown in the table below.

In summary, the WBL 2.0 legal frameworks score for Eritrea (50.0 out of 100.0) is lower than the global average (64.2) and lower than the Sub-Saharan Africa regional average (57.4). When it comes to constraints on freedom of movement and laws affecting women’s property and inheritance, Eritrea obtains a perfect score (100.0 out of 100.0). As an example, one of the lowest scores for Eritrea is on the indicator measuring laws affecting childcare. To improve on the Childcare indicator, Eritrea may wish to consider legally establishing provision of childcare services in center-based settings, introducing legislation on any form of support to families for childcare services, putting in place legislation on any form of support to non-state childcare providers and adopting legislation on quality standards for the provision of childcare services in center-based settings.

The WBL 2.0 supportive frameworks score for Eritrea (6.7 out of 100.0) is lower than the global average (39.5) and lower than the Sub-Saharan Africa regional average (24.5). Eritrea does not attain a perfect score on any of the WBL 2.0 supportive frameworks indicators. There is room for improvement across all ten indicators. As an example, one of the lowest scores for Eritrea is on the indicator measuring supportive frameworks affecting women’s safety. To improve on the Safety indicator, Eritrea may wish to consider developing comprehensive mechanisms to address violence against women, putting in place special procedures for cases of sexual harassment, designating a government entity responsible for the monitoring and implementation of national services, plans and programmes addressing violence against women, providing an annual budgetary allocation towards violence against women risk mitigation and prevention and response programs.
